

CARNEGIE HERO FUND COMMISSION MAKES AWARDS TO TWENTY-FOUR

(By Associated Press.)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 25.—Twenty-four acts of heroism were recognized by the Carnegie hero fund commission in its fourteenth annual meeting here yesterday.

In seven cases silver medals were awarded, and in seventeen cases bronze medals. Ten of the heroes lost their lives, and to the dependents of nine of these pensions aggregating $4,560 a year were granted. In addition to these money grants, in two cases $2,100 was appropriated for educational purposes, payments to be made as needed and approved, and in eleven cases awards aggregating $8,000 were made for other worthy purposes. Payments in these cases will not be made until the beneficiaries' plans for the use of the awards have been approved by the commission. Bronze medals were awarded to the following:

have completely failed and the government has had to confess itself beaten. The supporters of the German scheme are known as "Activists," and are very unpopular among the majority of their fellow citizens. An "Activist demonstration" was arranged in Brussels recently and was much exploited in the German press at the time. But, according to the Echo Belge, the demonstration was a fiasco.

"Instead of 3,000, the audience was only 1,000," says the newspaper. "Moreover, one-third of these were Dutch and another third Germans, partly in uniform. The procession to the market place was attacked as soon as noticed by the crowd, notwithstanding the protection of the local police. Next time there may be a riot. Now the Activists are beginning to divide into Maximalists and Minimalists and are becoming very difficult for their German bosses to handle."

SENATOR NEWLANDS' WILL IS FILED FOR PROBATE

The will of Francis G. Newlands, late senator from Nevada, dated December 31, 1914, was filed for probate yesterday in the office of the register of wills, says the Washington Herald of January 18.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—An appeal to governors and members of congress to support a nation-wide campaign against illicit liquor distillers has been prepared by Internal Revenue Commissioner Roper, whose reports show "moonshine" traffic increasing rapidly.

The campaign will be directed mainly against southern dry states, where the location of most of the military camps has added a special reason for the clean-up movement.

Commissioner Roper will ask governors to furnish state agents to co-operate with government inspectors in putting illegal stills out of business. The appeal probably will be issued in a few days.

In line with the movement to improve liquor and vice conditions about military camps, new restricted zone regulations have been prepared by the war department and the department of justice and will be announced soon. They have been drawn in an effort to make it more difficult for persons who buy liquor and give it to soldiers to escape penalties of the law.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—General

Tasker H. Bliss, chief of staff, who arrived in Paris yesterday, will represent the United States army on the supreme war council. Secretary Baker in so announcing last night disclosed that the general is accompanied by high officers of every branch of the service to advise him about any questions that may arise.

General Bliss attended the first meeting of the council and decision to send him back to Europe as a permanent representative in that body was made because it was recognized that General Pershing's duties in organizing and commanding the ever-increasing American expeditionary forces were too great to permit him to undertake the presentation of American views on military operations and to sit with the council in framing plans of strategy that cover all fronts and all armies.

No word of the departure of General Bliss had been published until the news of his safe arrival came yesterday.

From General Bliss the war council will obtain an up-to-the-minute report on what the United States will be able to contribute to operations on the western front this spring and summer. His report has been forecast to some extent by President Wilson's statement to congressional visitors that there would be in Europe in June twice the number of American troops which it had been originally planned to send by that time.

General Bliss also can inform his conferees exactly the situation in which the United States finds itself now as to delivery of supplies of all sorts to the allies.

While Secretary Baker's statement merely said that General Bliss had arrived in France to represent the army on the council, there have been intimations that renewed recommendations for vigorous offensive operations on the widest possible scale were included in the instructions the general received before sailing.

Probably the primary consideration before the council when it reconvenes will be the widely advertised proposed German offensive on the western front. A mass of information has reached the allied powers from many quarters indicating an impending drive against the British or French lines, or both, which will be carefully reviewed.

The possibility suggested by Colonel Repington, the British military critic, in his initial article in the London Post yesterday, that the German concentration may be to support negotiations rather than for an assault is in line with views held by some American officers here. They feel that the German high command is endeavoring to set up the bogey of a great attack as a preliminary to another peace drive.

The possibility is suggested here that the allies may anticipate the German attack with a great drive, as the British once did in Flanders.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Increased activity of the western district of the American Mining congress, with headquarters in Denver, representatives at Washington and a campaign fund of $25,000 was outlined at a conference between mine operators of ten western states with delegates to the fifth annual joint convention of the Colorado Metal Mining association and the Colorado chapter of the American Mining congress, in session here.

The object of the movement is to unite all western mining operators behind proposed legislation to be asked of congress and to protect interests of the industry in any possible government war time emergency action. The ten states represented are Wyoming, Montana, California, Arizona, Idaho, Washington, Utah, Nevada, Oklahoma and Colorado. Hekley Wells of Denver was appointed chairman of the committee to take charge of the new organization. Other members are:

Mrs. Edith McAllister Newlands, widow of the deceased, is to receive as income from two-thirds of the estate a yearly allowance of $10,000. If, however, two-thirds of the estate mentioned does not yield that amount, enough of it is to be sold to make up the deficiency.

Mrs. Newlands received the other one-third outright. At her death the remainder of the two-thirds of the estate is to be divided among the children: Edith Newlands Johnston and Janet Newlands Johnston, and a granddaughter, Frederica von Bredow. The Union Trust company is named as executor.
